Local officers are urging cooperation of bicyclists in elimnating traffic hazards. A large number of Truckeeites have taken up the pleasant recreation and most of them strictly observe the traffic rules. However, according to the officers, many, especially the younger riders, are very careless and ride on the wrong side of the streets, ride at night without lights and dodge in and out of traffic in a hair-raising fashion. It should be clearly understood that the same rules which apply to motorists apply to bicyle riders and parents should warn their children to be particularly careful on the busy streets and highways.

It is most stimulating to observe the faith which local business men are exemplifying in making improvements in their establishments. There are few stores and business places in Truckee which have not added improvements during the past few months. One of the most outstanding examples of the progressive spirit is Fontana's Laundry on which nearly $10,000 has been expended in enlarging and modernizing the laundry and dry cleaning departments in recent weeks. The plant would be a credit to a much larger city.

It is with regret that we report the departure of Patrolman Art Barrick, who is being transferred to Sacramento county, but at the same time we want to welcome Patrolman Grover Keeter who will take Barrick's place in the district. Barrick has been an excellent officer and has carned the respect in which he is held. A state patrolman fills an important position in this region and it is pleasing to know that a capable and thorough man has been named to succeed him here.

Fly Fishing Is Improving Here Says Bill LaMarr

Limits Taken from River By Anglers States Warden

BOCA DECLINES

Fishing is Good Despite Heavy Run-Off Of Snow

Fly fishermen in this district are beginning to realize results from their efforts and a number of better than average catches have been reported from various locations, with the Truckee River being one of the favorite streams.

Game Warden William LaMarr stated that several limits have already been taken from Five Lakes by fishermen who can now make the trip via Deer Park. Miller Lake has also reurned good results and the trails are now open through there to the Rubicon.

While bait fishing at Boca reservoir has taken a decided decline from the first few weeks of the opening days, several big catches are being made daily with some fly fishing available. The Little Truckee, Prosser and other tributary streams to the Truckee are still bearing a heavy snow run-off, but experts report that fishing is good.

Cold Stream and Martis Creeks and other smaller streams are giving out with some nice catches of eastern brook trout, small but delicious, anglers declare.

CATTLE ENTERING ON SUMMER RANGE HERE

Cattle that normally graze on the Truckee district of the Tahoe National Forest have been entering their summer range during the past week, while the sheep have been entering during the past two weeks on areas that have an earlier vegetative readiness, states Ranger H. I. Snider.

Grazing permits have been issued in this district allowing 438 cattle and 12,737 sheep on governnment land and 943 cattle and 17,692 sheep on private land adjoining government land in the area.

Cattle range forage gives promise of being very good this year, since precipitation up to June 1 has been 6.33 inches over normal since last September 1, and late spring showers have maintained favorable moisture conditions.

We are in need of more daily warmer weather to bring sheep range forage growth up to normal, since cold nights have retarded growth to an extent that the total quantity of forage production on sheep ranges at present is approximately 15 to 20 per cent below normal. This weather condition has somewhat counteracted the original estimate of the California Cooperative Crop Reporting Service who estimated last month the forage factor condition to be 94 for this season while the normal is placed at 82, which is partially based on moisture conditions.

CCC Enrollee Is Drowned At Boca While Swimming

Body Is Shipped East For Last Rites And Burial

VIOLATES ORDERS

Respirator Arrives Too Late To Save Life

The body of Charles Farrel, 21, CCC enrollee at Camp Boca, who drowned in the Boca reservoir on Sunday morning, was expressed to New York City Tuesday for funeral services and interment. The Laity Funeral Home had charge of local arrangements.

Farrel, who went swimming alone in the resrvoir despite orders that no one go into the water unaccompanied or without notifying headquaters, stated Camp Commander J. J. Hunter, is believed to have struck his head on a submerged log when he dove from a stump in the back waters of the reservoir. A large discolored bruise on his forehead found after the body was recovered led to this theory.

Two Graeagle fishermen, L. N. Douglas and C. A. LaPoint, who were in a boat nearby, saw Farrel dive and when he did not reappear, they went to shore for help. Companions of the drowned man brought his body to the surface and when nearly an hour's artificial respiration failed to revive him, a telephone call was sent to Dr. J. H. Bernard, who summoned Fire Chief N. F. Dolley and the two, with Roy Waters, rushed to the scene with the new respirator of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department. All efforts, however, proved ineffective and Farrel's body was brought to Truckee and his parents in New York were notified.

Obedience to Law

WE are all familiar with the statement, "When they are at Rome, they do there as they see done." In other words, follow the custom of the land in which you are living. The writer remembers very vividly stepping out of an underground train in a London station and making her way to the street, greatly impeded by the oncoming rush of people. When she reached the street, she realized suddenly what was wrong. She had been holding to the right side of the passage as one does in America, when all the time she should have been keeping to the left. She knew the law, but for the moment forgot to make use of it. Much confusion and discomfort could have been avoided by walking with Londoners while she was in London.

In his letter to the Galatians, Paul writes (5:25), "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." . . . The words, "If we live in the Spirit," imply that we actually do live there. Let us then obey the laws of Spirit; let us prove that we are the children of Spirit, God. The opposite of Spirit is matter; therefore we do not live in matter. Why, then, should we fear or obey the so-called laws of matter? Living in the realm of Spirit, we find the way to walk in the Spirit.

To "walk in the Spirit" means to walk in the light of spiritual understanding, to follow the leadings of Truth. It means to avoid human will and let God direct our ways. We need to be receptive to the truth, allow God's plan to unfold in our consciousness, taking one step at a time. Even as the children of Israel were guided by a pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night, so shall we be guided in all our activities. We may be tempted to follow the broad highway of materiality with its false appetites, pleasures, and pains, or to wander away into one of the many intriguing by-ways that lead to sin, disease, unhappiness, and death. If we are wise, we shall stay close to the straight and narrow path, keeping our eyes always on the goal of spiritual understanding, for this path leads to health, holiness, and joy unspeakable. . . .

The law of Spirit is the law of Life. Christ Jesus knew the Mosaic Decalogue, which was divinely revealed to Moses, and obeyed it, as evidenced by his words and works, recorded in the New Testament. When asked which was the greatest of all the commandments, our Master replied (Mark 12:29-31): "The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these."

In referring to the First Commandment, Mary Baker Eddy writes (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 340): . . . The divine Principle of the First Commandment bases the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal. One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfils the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself;' annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry, — whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed."

To know the "one infinite God, good," is the need of the world today. We must obey the law of Spirit or we shall find ourselves trampled upon by oncoming erroneous beliefs — beliefs of hatred, envy, revenge, poverty, suffering, bloodshed, and violence. It is not enough to know about the law of God. We must understand it and make use of it in all our thinking and living. — The Christian Science Monitor.

History of S. F. Paper During Civil War Is Subject of Cal Thesis

BERKELEY, June 19.—The California era when months-old news was as new when it arrived by Pony Express or Overland Mail as minutes-old news is today as it is jerked from teletype machines was recalled today at the University of California.

In his doctor's thesis, entitled The Sn Francisco Bulletin, 1855-1865; A Study in the Beginnings of Pacific Coast Journalism, John Carter Denton, graduate student in history, deails the eary California newsgathering techniques.

The Bulletin, Denton points out, was founded by James King of William in 1815 for the purpose waging war on corruption that plagued the city at that time. King was murdered in 1856 by one of his opponents, a result of which was the formation of the Vigilance Committee.

"Before his death King made the Bulletin the leading newspaper in circulation in the city," Denton says. "This gave the paper an initial advantage, but to maintain this position it was necessary that it do more than merely follow the reform policy of its founder; it must also perform effectively the primary function of a newspaper, that is, provide news for its readers.

"The history of the Bulletin from 1856 to the end of the Civil War was partly that of a courageous and vigorous editorial policy, but even more important was the expansion of its news-gathering facilities during a period of constant change and improvement in communication and transportation bewteen the Eastern States and the Pacific Coast."

Japs Prove Frankenstein To Nation Bringing In Western Ideas, says Prof.

BERKELEY, June 19.— The Dutch now harried by demands on the East Indies empire, held an esteemed place in the eyes of the Japanese until recent years, and for more than a century formed the only link between Nippon and the outside world.

The peculiar position of the Netherlands' vast island empire is reviewed in one of the few up-to-date authoritative books on the subject by Dr. Amry Vandenbosch in a new publication of the University of California Press.

Dr. Vandenbosch is a professor of political science at the University of Kentucky. His book, entitled The Dutch East Indies, was first published in 1933, and has been revised in view of recent international developments.

The Dutch and the Japanese have had long if not always the most honorable relations with each other," Dr. Vandenbosch writes. "The Dutch did not arrive in Japan until 1600, some sixty years after the Spanish and the Portugese first made contact with that country, but from that time to the present the Netherlands alone of all the Western powers has had continuous official relations with the Japanese government."

From 1640 to the middle of the 19th century when Japan cut herself off from the rest of the world the Dutch were allowed to maintain a trading post on the island of Deshima in the harbor of Nagasaki. The Dutch were also instrumentl in opening up Japan to the Western world.

AMERICAN RIVER FISHING

SAN FRANCISCO— Reports on the opening day trout fishing in the South Fork of the American River indicated that conditions in 1941 were similar to those in 1940. According to a check made by fisheries biologists of the California State Division of Fish and Game, the average catch per angler on this stream on May 30 was four fish. Eighty-seven and one-half per cent of the trout taken this year ere Rainbow, showing an increase of 64 per cent. The balance of take consisted of Loch Leven. While the creels checked compared favorably with those of last year, it is expected that trout fishing will improve later in the season, as te water clears and the flow decreases.

A Los Angeles firm has become a member of the San Francisco chamber of commerce.

NOT SO FUNNY

Among the more embarrassing situations in the Washington defense muddle was the pots and pans crisis.

There has been much talk lately of a possible shortage in aluminum for defense needs. The Office of Production Management became so concerned about it that a door to door collection of aluminum pots, pans and other items was organized as a test campangn in Madison, Wis., and Richmond, Va., to see what could be salvaged.

Unfortunately, just as the test got underway it was disclosed that the Army has been energetically buying thousands of new aluminum pots, coffee filters and pitchers, for use in training camps.

This fact created embarrassment for all parties concerned, because it did look a little silly for the OPM to harvest used aluminum from private citizens (including three artificial legs) while the Army apparently had not heard of the aluminum shortage!

A situation like this may seem humorous at first glance but it really illustrates the serious fault in our defense effort—the confusion and lack of coordination in Washington. Why is there not one single, centrally directed National Defense job being done, instead of the present what-is-it?

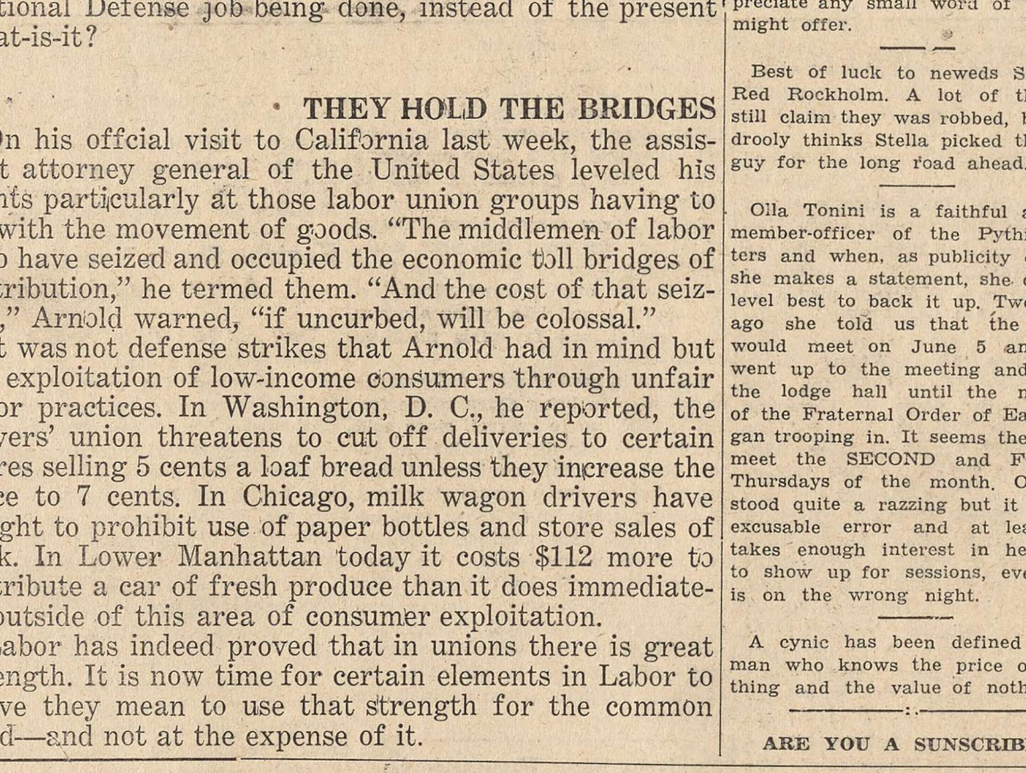
THEY HOLD THE BRIDGES

On his offcial visit to California last week, the assistant attorney general of the United States leveled his sights particularly at those labor union groups having to do with the movement of goods. "The middlemen of labor who have seized and occupied the economic toll bridges of distribution," he termed them. "And the cost of that seizure," Arnold warned, "if uncurbed, will be colossal."

It was not defense strikes that Arnold had in mind but the exploitation of low-income consumers through unfair labor practices. In Washington, D. C., he reported, the drivers' union threatens to cut off deliveries to certain stores selling 5 cents a loaf bread unless they increase the price to 7 cents. In Chicago, milk wagon drivers have sought to prohibit use of paper bottles and store sales of milk. In Lower Manhattan today it costs $112 more to distribute a car of fresh produce than it does immediately outside of this area of consumer exploitation.

Labor has indeed proved that in unions there is great strength. It is now time for certain elements in Labor to prove they mean to use that strength for the common good—and not at the expense of it.

A Million Dollar Risk



Entirely hand-built, weighing 82 tons and christened the B-19 bomber, this giant of fighting planes will be launched from grounds of Douglas Aircraft Corporation sometime soon. Besides its original building cost of $3,500,000, the plane will cost Douglas an insurance premium of $82,000 for the first hour of its test flight—and the insurance company will pay a million if it crashes. This represents the largest policy ever written on an airplane.

My Place In The Sun

by DOUG BARRETT

Some people's sheer ambition and yen for manual labor gets me. Now take my neighbor Norval Fred (Tom) Dolley. I was over at his house the other evening and he was moving earth like a steam shovel. It wouldn't be so bad, but he's doing it all of the time. He's worse than a Nebrasha dust storm when it comes to moving a yard around. On top of that, Tom is our No. 1 deputy everything, chief of the fire dept. and prexy of the grammar school board, all in addition to being express agent. In the latter capacity he's up these days in the wee, small hours of the morning meeting the trains. I repeat, the yen for labor some folks have wears me down. P.S.: Even his three-year old son "Tink" is getting the habit.

I wonder how come the big city daily got a pix of Justice Byrnes labeled as "Harlan F. Stone"? I thought the Chronicle just didn't do things like that....Maybe it's just 'cause she's been so long absent, but Mary B. Pierce looks better every time I see her....Dot Barrett is helping Tina sling sodas these days.... Hope new neighbors, the Gene Bartons, like Gateway Park....Frankie Titus sure akes his job and life generally seriously....Judy Loynd likewise....Jerry Zunino and Roy Feathers seem to take to the great out doors of late—at least in front of their shops....

Birthday greetinx to Baker Harold Hart....Youngun Frances June Polyanich....Electrician Larry Zoebel.... Twenty-Oner Buddy Zorich. The most of the best for years to come.

It's a real pleasure to do business with our local Bankamerica staff. I'd like to take off my hat to someone but for the life of me it's a problem who should receive the honor(?). Manager Yell Nobles, Asst. Coshier Menia Moretta and Teller Vern Nelson all seem to work together so nicely that none can claim the greatest credit. I have yet to see—even on the busiest days—a member of that staff appear put out or even ruffled. They work as smoothly and efficiently as a well-oiled machine and yet make you feel that you are the most important client they have. I guess nobody gets credit unless it's L.M. or A.P. Giannini for a wise hiring policy and they're too far away to appreciate any small word of praise I might offer.

Best of luck to neweds Stell and Red Rockholm. A lot of the boys still claim they was robbed, but yers drooly thinks Stella picked the right guy for the long road ahead.

Olla Tonini is a faithful and fine member-officer of the Pythian Sisters and when, as publicity director, she makes a statement, she does her level best to back it up. Two weeks ago she told us that the Sisters would meet on June 5 and then went up to the meeting and sat in the lodge hall until the members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles began trooping in. It seems the Sisters meet the SECOND and FOURTH Thursdays of the month. Olla has stood quite a razzing but it was an excusable error and at least she takes enough interest in her order to show up for sessions, even if it is on the wrong night.

A cynic has been defined as the man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing.

Tahoe Region News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Walker, formerly of Chicago and more recently of San Francisco, arrived at Tahoe on Monday to open their Sunnyside summer lodge for the season. This lake shore residence was purchased last fall from Adolf Westphal who built the place several years ago and called it "West Lake". The Walkers changed the name this spring to "Unaliyi" which in the Indian language means "House of Friends."

Hall Ross of San Mateo, with his new bride, is spending a few days at his summer home "Guthawinga", on Sunnyside beach. The name of the Ross place is Indian for "A Place to Rest."

M. Accinelli sold his summer home this week in Timberland, and is leaving soon for the bay region.

Mrs. Eleanore Swanson and son, James, are very busy this week putting the finishing touches on the new addition to their home at Sunnyside. A large new living room facing the lake shore gardens was added to the Swanson home this month and is now being furnished and decorated in harmonizing shades of aqua blue, rose and old-gold.

Another dupuex cottage was completed this week at the Pomin Cottage Court at Tahoe Park. Seven cottages are now included in the circle.

A new cottage was added this month to Chambers Lodge cottage row, most of them are now filled with summer vacationists. The Chambers hotel was booked to capacity over the weekend.

The new Ward Creek filling station was completed during the past week and is now open for the summer season. It is being operated by young James Worden, well known ski ace and member of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club.

Six new tnet-cabins have been added to Homewood's tent city this spring. A new double cottage has also been completed on the grounds and various improvments have been made in the hotel and the surrounding gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sather and daughters, Nancy and Mabel, opened their Homewood home this week and expect to vacation there for the remainder of the month.

Mrs. Alice Bullion on San Anselmo spent a few days at her Sunnyside home this week to prepare the place for the summer opening.

Among the resorts on the western lake shore opening for summer business during the week are Tahoma, Moanna Villa, Tahoe Cedars Motel, Cedar Crest, Waleswood and Valentine's Court.

The Hut resturant and night club, south of Tahoe City, held its opening dance last Friday evening. A capacity crowd attended.

The Meeks Bay public dances will open on Saturday night in the beach hall at that resort under the direction of Victor Bell of Sacramento. Bell's five-piece orchestra will furnish music nightly throughout the summer except on Sundays.

Carl Brooks of Grass Valley purchased a new boat this week which he expects to launch on the lake soon for pleasure purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kehlet and family of San Gabriel arrived at the lake Saturday and opened their Meeks Bay summer home for the season.

Mrs. Hulda Nielsen of Auburn visited friends in Tahoe City during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver opened the Edwin Letts Oliver home for the summer this week near Sunnyside.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bourne and sons Johnnie and Billy of Reno were week end guests at the home of Dorothy Mac at Homewood. Mr. Bourne is the Nevada representative of the United Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Mueller of Reno opened their summer place at Homewood this week.

Mrs. John Metcalf of Oakland spent a few days at her Tahoe Park home this week in preparation for opening the place for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Briggs and family spent the past week at their summer home at Homewood.

Mr. and Mrs. R C Moore of San Frnacisco are again settled for the summer in their lake shore home "Fernmoore" near Tahoe Park.

Holland Frazee, music instructor at Sacramento Junior College, opened his summer cottage near Lake Forest during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker entertained in their Front street home on Sunday evening with a dinner party honoring the birthday of A. M. Henry, Jr. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henr, Sr., Miss Patricia Henry and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagner, proprietors of Wagner's Auto Coutr at Lake Forest, were called suddenly to Crescent City on Friday by the death of his brother, Belvia, of that city. The deceased was a house guest at the Wagner home here early this summer and word of his sudden passing came as a shock to his relatives.

D.A.s Hold Meetings At Tahoe Resort

AL TAHOE, June 19.— The role of law enforcement officers in civilian defense was the keynote last week of the 31st annual convention of the California District Attorneys Association.

Attorney General Earl Warren sounded the theme in an address to the 150 district attorneys, wives and guests at the opening business sessions in Globin's Chalet last Thursday afternoon.

He called upon law enforcing officers to combine and coordinate their recently established Council for Civilian Protection with the State Council for Defense.

"We can move right into the state program," Warren stated, "without losing any of our organizational work for emergency leadership and protection."

Prof. Samuel C. May, director of the bureau of public administration at University of California, followed Warren's talk with a request that the prosecutors push forward the local enactment of city and county ordinances organizing civilian defense boards.

May pointed out the duties of such bodies have not yet been outlined by the federal government but added that urgent requests for organization of some sort of local board had been made.

A grim warning to "beat down ruthlessness with ruthlessness" in dealing with defense espionage, sabotage and impediment came from Harold Nathan, assistant director of the Los Angeles office of the FBI.

"If democracy is to survive," Nathan said, "the citizens of this country must work overwhelmingly hard and must not worry about extra holidays. The FBI doesn't function on a five-day week with time and a half for overtime. Other organizations do, but they should not."

He deplored what he termed the American habit of being too tolerant.

"We even have permitted to organize under the guise of free speech —or license—Communists who anybody knows are inimical to all we hold sacred."

Matthew Brady, San Francisco, president of the association, delivered his keynote address Friday afternoon. That morning was devoted to golf for the Earl Warren perpetual trophy.

A banquet highlighted convention activities. Prof. Stephen M. Barooshian of the Placer Junior College spoke on Americanism.

TAHOE SICK LIST

Word recahed friends and relatives here this week of two former Tahoe residents, Gene and Bud Walker, now residing near Woodland. The two, with the latter's father, Tom Walker, were taken suddenly ill early this week and removed to the Woodland Clinic. All three are reported now on the way to recovery.

Miss Alice Soll of Pine Lodge is spending a short time in Reno for a tonsil operation.

Mrs. Ruth Shiften was taken to an Auburn hospital Thursday in a very serious condition. The attending physician diagnosed the case as double pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble. On the last report the patient's conditoin was improved, but physicians advise remaining for a month or more in the lower altitudes.

SERGEANT PRAISES USO AS BOON TO U.S. ARMY MEN, MORALE

An old timer in the Army who has "gone down the line" for USO is Sergeant Joseph E. Taylor, who, although rating as a "veteran", can outmarch and outlast most rookies and give them pointers with his "dukes." Speaking to and for the men in uniform about the USO program he said:

I got a pretty good angle, during the last war, on what boys wanted when they got camp leave. A lot of them weren't anxious to play the bars and honky-tonks but there just wasn't any other place for them to hang around.

They didn't want to sing hymns for their fun, either. That eliminated a lot of set-ups by welfare groups. Those places didn't actually high-pressure religion, but the boys were afraid they would.

This time we can set our fears at rest. There are going to be 360 big club-houses around the country, run by folks who speak our language and wholly for our benefit. They won't be on military reservations. They'll be right in town. There won't be any Army bugles blowing. The club-houses will be run by our own home folks. The idea is to give us a complete change from the old salute.

The clubs will be conducted by an outfit known as USO, the United Service Organizations for National Defense. I've talked to some of the men and women behind it. They have the real Army slant. Religion isn't going to be forced on anyone. The club-houses won't be filled with it, or with Psalm-singers, or even with staffs that look like them.

This USO is unique. It's absolutely non-sectarian. That is, agencies of every faith are part of it. Its big aim is to provide us with good recreation, fun, a chance to meet nice girls in nice surroundings. To put it bulntly, USO is out to beat the time of bars and honky-tonks.

USO men and women on duty at the clubs will be of every faith, but it won't be religion that puts them there. They'll be there first and last because they're what we fellows call "Good Joes," men and women we'd have wanted to be friends with no matter where we met.

If a fellow has personal problems, if he's feeling low, they'll be glad to go to bat for him. But they'll do it on a man-to-man basis. There won't be any smug professional touch.

Of course there will be religious activities in USO club-houses. Why not? There won't be any strings on them—or us. The boys can take them or leave them alone. USO is going to fire at just one target: To give the boys away from home what they want in comfort and wholesome amusement.

I'm sold on USO. There's nothing about it to give the toughest four-minute egg a pain, and plenty about it to convince me it's what the doctor ordered for men in uniform.

The six big agencies composing the USO ought to know what it's all about. Some of them have had more than 75 years of experience in welfare work. The member agencies are The Salvation Army, YMCA, National Catholic Community Service, YWCA, National Jewish Welfare Board and National Travelers' Aid Association.

It will take a lot of money to put the USO program across. About $11,000,000 will be needed, just for the first year. But I figure our home folks, who have chipped in three and four times that much for Tommies, Frenchmen, Greeks, Chinese, Belgians—almost every other country—won't forget us now.

The government has appropriated $15,000.000 to establish the club-houses and the USO will raise $10,765,000 through public subscription to staff and operate them. Many cities already are over their quotas, while others are just now beginning their active solicitation.

A Unique Digging Device

The Excavator in Action

THE ball excavator gnaws its way quickly into piles of earth, sand or coal and loads them on nearby railroad lorries. A single controlling hand performs the labor of a hundred shovels. The voracious digging device is a ball shaped head driven by electricity which revolves six times a minute. Under the direction of the operator the irresistible digging unit readily swings from side to side until the piles before him melt away.

Loosened by the cutting head, the material passes to a running belt inside the pipe which delivers it to the opposite end twenty feet or more distant into railroad cars until they are filled and drawn away, or onto piles at any desired point. Effective use can also be made of this device in excavating foundations and other engineering work. In a series of demonstrations made at the Leipzig Fair the device proved highly efficient.

The cylinder or portable tunnel measures twenty feet in length and four feet in diameter, permitting tons of material to be transferred every minute. By merely pointing his giant finger at the pile to be disintegrated, the single operator at the controls can dispose of it quickly, and a few moments later the loosened material is piled away neatly in the background. Of exceedingly robust construction, the machine bears the strain of digging for long periods, while the cutters of the ball are kept sufficiently sharp to break up all objects in its path short of solid rock.

Life of Big War Guns

The war department says that the life of a big gun is 200 to 500 rounds. This does not mean, however, that the gun is absolutely worthless after 500 rounds, only that it has to be relined. A big gun would be considered a 14 or 16 inch gun.

It's 7 gasolines blended into one. Big scientific names such as Polymerized gasoline, Alkylated gasoline are on the Finer Flying A roster. Re-formed, Cracked, Solvent-refined, Straight-run and Natural gasolines complete the magic seven. All seven are blended together in tested, scientific proportions to run your car with a new, undreamed-of smoothness. THE PARTNERS BARGAIN

Like the perennial Phoenix, reports again flashed to the surface on Europe's sea of rumors and hunches, announcing growing friction between Germany and Russia. From the Baltic to the Black Sea, Adolf Hitler is said to have massed 100 divisions on Russia's frontiers, and rumors of an impending attack against Stalin's kingdom have been purportedly heard in Berlin. But the evidence indicates not that the Nazi warlords are preparing for war on their eastern frontier, but that Germany is seeking increasing collaboration from Russia. The Russians, as hard bargain drivers, may well have balked at imperious Nazi demands. What could better soften them up than a powerful display of armed forces, threatening a war which at all costs, Dictator Stalin wishes to avoid? If representatives of Hitler and Stalin come to blows this week, it is most apt to be blows of fists striking conference tables in Berlin or Moscow. And one hundred divisions is a great aid to one's bargaining strength!

WAR IN THE MIDDLE EAST

As the second world war sweeps into the Middle East with its threat of engulfing Palestine, the Biblical homeland of Christendom and today the national home of Zionists, Britain faces an increasingly grievous problem. In Palesine today, some 500,000 Jews are longing to arm their young men for entering the struggle against the onrushing Nazi war machine which threatens that historic land. Thus far, Britain has permitted only 10,000 of their people to take up arms in Palestine. They wish to be armed to the full extent of their fighting power. But England, fearing an outburst of Arab wrath, has refused to grant this. Hopeful of escaping this dilemma, Britain has followed a policy of permitting equal enlistments of Arabs and Jews in her armed forces. But the Arabs wouldn't enlist, so the Jews couldn't. Through American aid which will supply them with the weapons and materials of war, the Jews of Palestine plan to obtain the means now denied them of defending their ancient homeland against Nazi conquest.

WASHINGTON COMES TO CALIF.

While defense production goes forward in 20,000 major plants, the machines and producing capacity of some 15,000 middle-sized and smaller firms remain largely untapped. Many of these would willingly aid the armament drive if they could find out what the government's specific wants are. Many of these the government would doubtless put to work if it knew their resources. In the tumultuous hub-bub that is Washington today, the small enterpriser has small chance of making his services known. But a significant news item indicates he has a better day coming. By July 1, "defense service stations" will be set up by a statewide branch banking system in hundreds of California communities for the sole purpose of informing the small businessman how he can find his place in the defense effort. In conjunction with this a fact-finding office, now being established in Washington, will provide California enterprisers, thru the defense service stations, with an information service piped directly from the national capitol to their communities. Such statewide information clearing houses should easily make California the best prepared of any state in the nation to place all willing hands and all available resources at the disposal of the defense drive. It means, in effect, that Washington has come to California.

AIR INQUIRY

Late in the day, but not yet too late, Congress is planning conferences to obtain hearings on bills favoring creation of an independent air force. Such bills have been introduced at the last session and again at this one only to be virtually pigeonholed. Referred for comment to the War and Navy departments, they have returned with the words, "We see no advantage in such legislation." Despite the revolutionary change in war wrought by air power, it remains an unwanted step-child in the eyes of older, non-flying officials—so much that aviation has no part in the courses at West Point and Annapolis. About time, we'd say, to take stock!

INCOME AND OUTGO

California, with its ledgers in the best shape in two years, can point to revenues in the first 11 months of this fiscal year $19,588,779 greater than in the same period of the last fiscal year, and expenditures $23,003,311 less. We trust this welcome news is not a temporary condition, but a real forecast of the shape of things to come.

CHINESE BROADCAST TO CHINA FEATURE ON S.F. STATION KGEI

SAN FRANSCISCO, June 19.—RNS—Only United States radio station to be heard in the Orient is the General Electric short wave KGEI of San Francisco. It is the only short wave international broadcasting station west of the Mississippi.

If you would get a kick out of a program of Chinese opera and music and reports of world news in Cantonese and Mandarin dialects from San Francisco's Chinatown to China itself, tune in 9670 kilocycles or 31.02 meters with your short-wave adapter any night from midnight to one a.m. It's your Chinese Good Neighbor Hour.

The response from the the Far East to KGEI pours in daily—even Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek sent personal thanks to the station for the program.

This station keeps half the world's surface informed of the world's news—unbiased and without comment. President Roosevelt's recent speech was re-broadcast five times to reach Mexico and Latin America, Alaska, Hawaii, the Islands of the Pacific, New Zealand, Asia and South Africa. A condensed version was broadcast in Chinese on the Chinese midnight hour.

The station is at present expanding and moving from its present Treasure Island location to the Fairmont Hotel where visitors will be welcomed to view the unique facilities.

Senator Seawell Seen As State Board Candidate

State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell, Roseville Republican, is said by the California Feature Service to be a tentative candidate for the state board of equalization in the third district. In the feature column "The Man at the Keyhole", Seawell's candidacy is held as contingent on Richard Collins, Redding incumbent, will seek re-election or not.

Collins has been in ill health for some time and is the oldest elective official in California from a point of service. Indications are that he will retire at the end of his present term.

The columnist also stated that the Olson administration candidate to oppose either the local solon or Collins will be Senator Oliver J. Carter, D., of Shasta County. Carter is the son of Associate Justice Jesse Carter of the state supreme court.

MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASS'N

More sensational—but certainly no more significant—news from Europe and our own defense fronts may have tended to obscure some of the details of a recent announcement dealing with a new and highly important airplane soon to be produced in a California factory.

The new ship is a four-engine, high speed 64-passenger transport, tentatively designated as the Constellation, which will be built by the Lockheed Aircraft Corpn. of Burbank, one of the most important units of the state's ever-expanding aircraft industry.

Forty of the new airliners have been ordered by Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., and the ship is scheduled to be delivered next spring.

Briefly reviewing some of the more publicised aspects of the Constellation we find:

Four 2,500 horsepower engines.

Top speed of 350 miles per hour and a cruising speed of 283 mph.

Supercharging of cabins and engines o permit operation up to 30,000 feet.

A range of more than 4,000 miles.

Equally important are the national defense phases of the project. (The fact that OPM priorities board has authorized immediate construction of three of the ships stresses this angle.)

Pressed into military service, a fleet of 40 of these big land planes could:

Transport 16,000 troops to Alaska in 36 hours1; 12,000 soldiers to the Panama Canal Zone in the same amount of time; 7,500 men to Hawaii in 48 hours; carry 10 million pounds of military cargo to the Canal Zone in 48 hours.

Operations of the Nazi Luftwaffe have clearly demonstrated the value of aerial troop transport. It ought, therefore, to be highly gratifying to Americans to realize that ships such as the Constellations have been ordered and that in an emergency a fleet of these big planes could evacuate a city the size of Brownsville, Texas, in a day or fly from the United States to any capital in the western hemisphere in 16½ hours flying time.

CHILLY, ISN'T IT?

and while it's apt to get warmer before it gets colder, you can bet your last sou that it's going to get a whole lot colder before this date rolls around during 1942.

Why not prepare now for the wintry winds? Instal an oil stove, get your oil now before a price raise and next winter be comfortable, clean and sure of your heat. No ashes, no fuss. Just turn the switch and light the burner. That's the maximum of work when you heat with oil.

NOW WHAT ABOUT THE JUNE GROOM?

In June the brides get all the spotlights and the groom "wore navy blue"! Even cookery columns (like this one) are so concerned over the bride's cake, the bride's reception, the bride's breakfast, that the groom does well to get a kind look.

But when satin has been swapped for seersucker and the bridal bouquet exchanged for a mixing spoon, what the groom does gets more and bore important. What, then, does a man like? Surveys computed from actual purchases don't lie, and a recent one conducted by Hotel Management Magazine tells what they order when they eat out—a good guide for brides of today and yesterday.

Steak, just as you thought, is a top-notcher, but ahead of it come corned beef and cabbage and—hold on—hash! Men crave salads, too, but none of your bridge party concoctions; the male will take a chef's salad bowl every time, be it raw vegetables or mixed greens. His vegetables are n the starchy side, with potatoes, peas and corn coming in first, but he won't turn down spinach or carrots if they're on the menu. Fried onions are a masculine weakness, and bread and butter are a "must" with biscuits coming in first. Dessert (you guessed it again) will be pie or ice cream, and pie a la mode is heaven right on the table. He likes plenty of coffee, and recently he's been liking it black, which means it has to be good.

Louisiana Fried Onions

4 medium sized onions, thinly sliced; 3 tbsps. butter; ½ teasp. salt; ⅛ teasp. black pepper; 3 tbsps. prepared mustard.

Saute onions in butter over low heat until evenly browned, stirring frequently. Remove skillet from heat and add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Re-heat. Serve with broiled meat patties, steak, lamb chops or liver, frankfurters, spareribs, or roast porl(or beef. Approximate yield: 6 portions.

Baking Powder Biscuits

2 cups sifted flour; 3 teasps. all-phosphate baking powder; 1 teasp. salt; 6 tbsps. shortening; 2|3 cup milk (about).

Sift flour before measuring. Measure flour; sift flour, all-phosphate baking powder and salt together. Cut in chortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk to make soft dough. Turn out on floured surface and mix gently for 30 seconds. Roll out to ½ to ¾ inch thickness. Cut into rounds of desired size and place on greased baking pan. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F) 12-15 minutes. Makes 18.

Chef's Salad Bowl

½ head romaine; ¼ head lettuce; ½ head endive; 1 cup grapefruit sections; 1 unpeeled apple, halved and sliced; ½ cup sliced scallions; 2 whole raw carrots cut in strips; ½ cup sliced or quartered radishes; chef's French dressing.

Combine all ingredients in salad bowl. Add chef's French dressing until well blended.

Chef's French Dressing:

1 garlic clove; 3 tbsps. cider or wine vinegar; few grains pepper; ½ cup mazola; ½ teasp. salt; ¼ teasp. paprika.

Rub bowl with cut clove of garlic. Add remaining ingredients. Stir vigorously with fork. Remove garlic and beat thoroughly.

Apple Bran Fritters

1 cup flour; 2 teasps. baking powder; 1½ teasps. salt; ¼ cup sugar; 1 egg; 2|3 cup milk; 2 teasps. melted shortening; 2|3 cup all-bran; 3 to 4 apples; 2 teasps. powdered sugar; 1 tbsp. lemon juice.

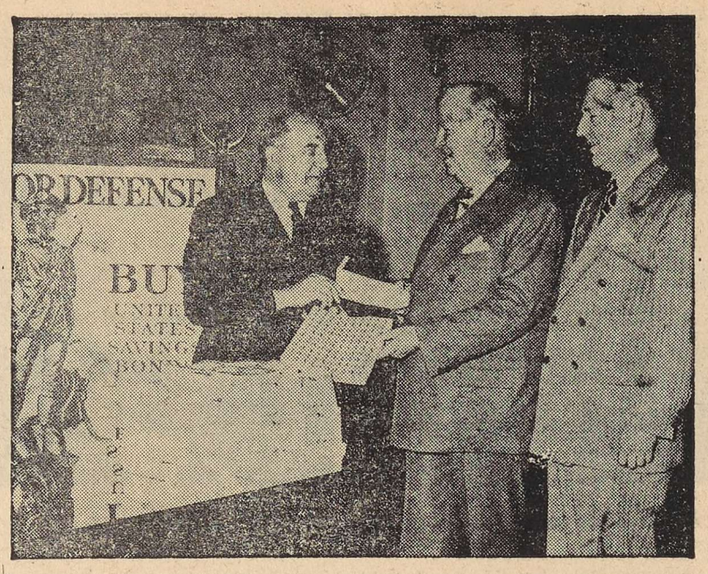
Core and pare apples and slice in ½ inch clices. Combin sugar and lemon juice and pour over apples Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Beat eggs slightly; add milk and shortening. Add to dry ingredients; mix until smooth. Stir in all-bran. Dip apple rings in batter, completely coating. Fry in deep fat (375 deg. F) until brown (4-6 minutes). Drain on unglazed paper.

Banana Ice Cream

1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3 bananas); 2 teasps. lemon juice; ¼ cup sugar; ¼ teasp. salt; ⅓ cup milk; 2 egg whites; 1 cup whipping cream; 2 egg yolks; 1 teasp. vanilla extract.

Use ripe bananas (yellow peel flecked with brown). Mix together bananas and lemon juice. Add sugar, salt and milk, stirring until mixed. Beat egg whites until stiff. Whip cream until thickened but not stiff. Beat egg yolks until thick. Combine banana mixture, egg whites, cream egg yolks and vanilla. Turn into freezing trays of automatic refrigerator. Freeze, with indicator at coldest setting, stirring every 30 minutes until mixture begins to hold its shape. Then freeze until firm. Eight servings.

Associated Employees Get Defense Stamps



The largest wholesale purchase of U.S. Defense Postal Savings Stamps to date took place in New York City when WILLIAM F. HUMPHREY (Center), President of Tide Water Associated Oil Company, handed the company's check to Postmaster ALBERT M. GOLDMAN in exchange for 10,019 one dollar stamps as B. I. GRAVES, vice-president of the company in New York looked on approvingly. Distribution of a Postal Savings Stamp Album with the first one dollar stamp paid for and affixed thereto is being made to each Associated employee from coast to coast as the first step in a program designed to aid the National Defense Program.

BRIDGING THE FUTURE

Like a mighty river roaring thru a rocky groge the unknown future faces America.

We in America today face the gigantic task of building a bridge to span the dangerous years ahead. We must build a bridge above the dark waters disaster over which the generations-to-come may pass in safety.

Spanning the Hudson River....is the famous George Washington bridge—one of the longest and largest suspension bridges in the world.

The length of the main span is 3,568 feet! The total length between anchorages is 8,200 feet! From a distance, the cables look like the web of a spider, but they are the strength of the bridge; they must support the tremendous weight of 160,000,000 pounds! These cables are three feet in diameter; they are made of 61 interwoven cables, 4½ inches thick. The smaller cables are made by spinning together 434 strands of thin steel wire, each wire less than one-fiftieth of an inch in diameter. Thus bound together, 26,474 of these tiny wires make the large cables that must support the load of millions of pounds.

The strength of America's bridge depends upon spinning the tiny wires of individual ability into the sturdy cables of cooperative strength.

All the tiny wires of constructive Americanism: creative ideas, team work, loyalty, faith, courage, work, love, must be united in powerful cables to withsand the pounding force of world storms which are endangering our way of life.

Each of us can help to build the bridge by junking the defective wires of discord and bitterness, and spinning into the giant cables ony the best qualities of our minds, hearts and spirits. We must spin together everything that is srong and good in America and omit all that is weak. Thus, together, we can build an American Bridge with the supreme strength to span any future.

Summer Home Razed at South End of Lake Tahoe

Tahoe City, June 19.— The summer home home of James Commings of Sacramento was burned to the ground at Bijou Park on Monday. The flames from the building crept to nearby trees and badly damaged another cottage adjoining the Commings property.

The Commings hmeo was a complete loss, estimated at about five thousand dollars. The house had been remodeled inside and out early this summer, Commings said. The origin of the blaze has so far not been determined.

FIRST PAPER MAKER

The common wasp which makes big, ball-like nests in trees, was the first papermaker. For hundreds of years men have experimented with various materials but have come back, for most paper requirements, to the same material the asp uses—wood pulp.

TAHOE SCHOOL NEWS

An overnight camp trip was enjoyed on Friday and Saturday by the pupils of the Tahoe City grammar school's intermediate classes. They were chaperoned by their teachers, Mrs. Philip Gallinger and Mrs. June Dyer, and were driven to and from camp in the school bus by Mrs. Stella Watson. The party numbered 24 and the camp equipment was transported to the chosen site of Alpine Camp near Luther Pass in trucks driven by John Pingree and Miss Patricia Henry, a graduate of the Tahoe schools. The party left Tahoe City about noon Friday, driving north by way of Brockway with a stop over at Glen Brook in Nevada for a horse-back ride. From this point, the tour led around the lake to Meyers Station beyond the south end to afford the summer students a view of Tahoe's shoreline. A drive of about three miles from Meyers brought them to the camp near the head of the Upper Truckee River where they enjoyed a thrilling night and morning in the open. The party returned home in time for lunch on Saturday.

On Tuesday evening the entire Tahoe Lake School joined in the pot luck supper and evening party held in the school auditorium. A large attendance of parents and friends enjoyed the evening.

The elementary school closed for the summer vacation period on Tuesday, June 17. The closing program will take place in the auditorium on Friday evening. At this time the students will present an original play composed, arranged and directed by themselves. Graduates this summer include Robert Edwards, Shirley Moore, June White and Jackson Palmer.
